Hair today, gone tomorrow

The winter months can be the best time to permanently get rid of unwanted hair. We can treat your face, legs, bikini, underarms or almost anywhere on your body with our Cutera Laser. Imagine doing away with shaving, waxing, tweezing and hair removal creams!

Hair removal is the most popular aesthetic laser treatment performed today. The number of treatments performed every year is growing at an astounding rate. This is due, in part, to advancing technologies that make procedures safer and more effective for a wider range of patients.

Two common hair removal systems are IPL (intense pulsed light) and LASER (light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation). Hair color and skin type are the most important factors in determining type of treatment and success.

Darker hair has more melanin in the follicles. This makes a better target for the laser system as more light energy is absorbed by the melanin, producing better results. Blonde, gray, or white hair is treated less effectively.

Our staff will determine your skin type using the Fitzpatrick Scale. Skin types range from I – VI. Type I represents fair skin that easily burns with sun exposure. Type VI, on the other hand, is very dark, never burns and easily tans. Most patients with skin types I – IV can easily be treated with IPL, while skin types V and VI usually require LASER.

LASER or IPL hair removal systems work by delivering light to the hair root, where it is then converted into heat. This destroys the target while leaving surrounding tissue unharmed and intact.

Most patients require 5-9 treatments. This is because hair growth is divided into 3 phases:

1. anagen (active phase of growth)
2. catagen (resting phase)
3. telogen (dead phase)

Only hair in the active growth phase responds to laser hair removal.

While laser hair removal is very safe and effective, it is not without possible risks. The risks include blistering, scabbing, scarring, hypo or hyperpigmentation of the skin. We try to minimize these risks by carefully adjusting settings for each individual. Also, you should avoid sun exposure, self tanners, and tanning beds for 1 month prior to treatments and some skin irritants (retinal, benzol peroxide) for a week prior to treatments. To get the best results, don't tweeze, wax or use depilatory creams for 1 month prior to treatments as hair must be present in order to be destroyed.
